Property Description

Set in a tranquil mountain setting above the coast, this property offers five thousand square meters of usable land, approximately fifty three thousand eight hundred twenty square feet, immersed in a quiet jungle environment where daily life unfolds at a slower, more deliberate pace. The land opens to wide mountain views and long western sightlines, creating a natural stage for vivid sunsets that settle softly over the hills each evening. Two prepared building platforms are already in place, allowing flexibility to design and position a primary residence and a guest home or additional structure while fully engaging the surrounding landscape. The terrain is largely usable and thoughtfully arranged, making it well suited for a private residence, a retreat-style concept, or a long-term investment vision. The location maintains a sense of seclusion while remaining practical and well connected.
