Property Description

This beautiful brand new home is literally 102 yards from an idyllic, undiscovered beach in a community that combines easy access with an undiscovered, "off the beaten path" feeling. Few people will ever have the chance to reside in such a beautiful location, so near to Costa Rica's beaches. The country's beautiful, jungle-lined beaches have been safeguarded by strong coastal protection laws, which have also increased the value of beachfront real estate. The property is extremely special, as it's titled despite being close enough to the water that it is within Costa Rica's maritime zone. Pura Chante is a brand new home, a modern and inviting space. Finished in 2023, every room has the style and dimensions that will make this property both a comfortable home and a successful, marketable rental. The primary living and kitchen areas on the main floor are surrounded by big windows and sliders for light, airflow, and views of the surrounding flora.
